7 Tips to Organize Your Holiday Gift Giving

By: Barbara Myers

1. Make a list of people for whom you want to buy gifts. Remember to include teachers and the paper boy.
2. Set a Budget. Note beside each name how much you can spend.
3. Include gift ideas for each person. Consider gift certificates and edibles.
4. Look through mail order catalogs weekly. Mark gift ideas with sticky notes. Set a deadline to make final decisions and place orders.
5. Set aside a little time each week to shop. when you find something you love, decide who on your list might like it. Buy the same gift for several people.
6. Gather shipping boxes and packaging materials. Mail your gifts early this year to avoid long lines.
7. Buy wrapping paper, bows, and tags. Set up a gift wrap center in your home. Stock it with tape, scissors, and pens. Wrap as you buy.

DeClutter Children's Toys (www.christmas.organizedhome.com)

Too many toys! About this time of year, it's a good idea to contemplate the toy situation in your child's room. It's a fact, children's play things have exploded in number, size, and complexity, while children's storage options have remained static. Just try storing a Happy Meal collection in the average toy box! Even the best organized kids rooms can easily drown in today's toy avalanche, and now nowhere is the clutter more than at Christmas! Time for a sneaky, secret, flat-out toy reduction!

Call us today at 1-866-637-3603 and we can help you organize your child's room in time for Christmas and all their new toys!
